

Back To Business At The Shore

The Christie Administration Remains Committed To Rebuilding The Jersey Shore By Helping Our Small Businesses Get Back To Business

Helping Small Businesses Get Back On Their Feet

Today Governor Christie is visiting three small businesses on the Jersey Shore that were recently awarded grants from the New Jersey Economic Development Authority's (NJEDA) "Stronger NJ Grant" Program to assist in their rebuilding efforts.

Launched in May, the program focuses on the most impacted communities throughout the state by offering grants and forgivable loans to Sandy-impacted small businesses or non-profit organizations. In order to be eligible for a "Stronger NJ Grant" of up to $50,000, you must be a New Jersey-based small business or non-profit organization that sustained a minimum of $5,000 in physical damage from Super Storm Sandy. To date, 200 applications have been submitted, 22 have been approved, $1.2 million of grant funds have been approved and $247,067 has been disbursed to eight businesses.

In addition, the NJEDA also administers the "Stronger NJ Business Loan" Program. Businesses and non-profits that were impacted by Super Storm Sandy, as well as businesses looking to expand within storm-impacted communities, can apply for low-cost loans of up to $5 million per eligible location.

These two programs build on Governor Christie's continued commitment to helping storm-impacted businesses and communities recover from Super Storm Sandy:
